ENTER WILSON'S WORLD

Former Children's Laureate Jacqueline Wilson must surely be responsible for convincing thousands of children that reading is cool. If your child is hooked on any of her wonderful characters, from Tracy Beaker to Hetty Feather, you'll want to make a beeline for the V&A Museum of Childhood in London's East End. From 5 April to 2 November, a free exhibition explores her life and work with personal objects belonging to both her and her illustrator Nick Sharratt (both pictured left) such as diaries, childhood photographs and draft manuscripts. museumofchildhood.org.uk

JOIN THE CLUB

If you – and your children – are worried that a kids' club is too much like school, the new designer one at the Marbella Club Hotel Golf Resort & Spa should allay your fears. It has everything from mini-gardeners programmes (above) to culinary adventures and flamenco dancing. From £58 per child per day. A Garden Suite costs from £6,940 for a family of four, including flights and transfers, with Carrier. carrier.co.uk

Luxury tour operator Scott Dunn's Explorers children's club at Sun Gardens in Croatia is just 30 minutes from Dubrovnik and set on a hillside overlooking the Adriatic. With activities including a climbing wall and five-a-side football, there's plenty to keep little ones happy. Six days cost from £252 per child. Seven nights in a sea-view residence cost from £1,460 per person, including breakfast, flights and transfers. scottdunn.com
